

Pembrokeshire

May 19 - 7 nights

YOUR HOLIDAY AT A GLANCE

Guest Houses : Erw-Lon and Lower Haythog Farms. The two will share evening meal preparation. Both now 5 Star Guest-Houses	Based : Between Fishguard and Haverfordwest, on the edge of the Preseli Hills 	Prices : £1095 per person with en-suite bathroom. £995 per person for single room en-suite or for double/twin with private bathroom	Train Meeting : From Hereford &amp; Carmarthen 	Contact : Telephone: 01904 704620 Mobile: 0773 443 2589 E-Mail: bywayholidays@btinternet.com	Address: 21 Hallcroft Lane Copmanthorpe York YO23 3UG
------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	-------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------	----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------

Itinerary

This holiday has become a firm 'Byway' favourite over many years. Join us as we return to this lovely county once more for the ultimate relaxed, unhurried trip with a "spontaneous" approach to its schedule - to suit the mood and the weather! Our holiday bases are in Northern Pembrokeshire and from here we will explore much of the county - from its glorious coastline, surely one of Europe's finest, to some of the ancient Preseli Hills, source of the Stonehenge stones(?) and through the hidden byways, and old coal exporting quays of the Daugleddau Estuary that time forgot and few visit.

Pembrokeshire's famed spring flowers should be in their full glory for this mid May holiday both on the cliffs and in the hedgerows of the sunken lanes. We would hope to spend plenty of time out of the minibus, enjoy a picnic and have good opportunities for short leisurely strolls. On one evening we will eat out at the renowned Sloop Inn alongside the fascinating old Porthgain harbour before returning home. Our itinerary will concentrate on all those lovely "hidden" lanes, tucked-away bays, clifftop vistas and stunning coastal views that Pembrokeshire does so well and that we have discovered on our travels. Strumble Head, Cwm yr Eglwys, Pwll Deri, Old Fishguard harbour, Abercastle, Abereidly, Porthgain, St. Brides Haven, St. Justinians, Caerfai, the Mynydd Carningli and the Gwaun Valley all fit into this category along with others. We will of course plan to visit Fishguard itself, Britain's smallest city, St. David's, and also Tenby with its picture postcard harbour. The gardens at Colby and Picton Castle should be at their finest for this spring holiday. We may visit the fascinating museum of Pembrokeshire life at Scolton Manor and the pretty bustling small town of Narberth. A leisurely coastal picnic is planned and a journey along the spectacular St. Brides Bay coastal road through 'The Havens' (Little, Broad, Haroldston, Druidston and Nolton) to Newgale Beach. Llys y Fran Country Park, the "hidden" harbour at Solva, Newport Parog and Bay, Whitesands Bay, Nevern Church, Pentre Ifan cromlech, Carew Tidal Mill and the private gardens of Penlan Uchaf may all be quite likely destinations too. Local "crafts" will also probably feature such as visits to the renowned Tregwynt Woolen Mill, Jim Harries the Wood Turner in Mathry, The Slate Workshops at Llangolman and the quite remarkable 'Last Invasion' tapestry on display in Fishguard.

Strumble Head

